

New Testament Survey
GALATIANS

Author: Paul (1:1; 5:2; 6:11)

Date: 49 or 53-56

If it is written to the churches Paul had visited on his first missionary journey, this letter would have been written from Syrian Antioch about AD 49, just prior to the Jerusalem council (Acts 15 - There is no mention of the Jerusalem council and the behavior of Cephas would not make sense after the Jerusalem council. This view is also supported by the fact that Barnabas is mentioned three times in chapter 2).

If it is written to churches in the area of northern Galatia, as supported by church fathers, it would have been written after Paul may have gone through the area on his third missionary journey from either Ephesus (as early as AD 53) or Macedonia (as late as AD 56).

Theme: Gospel of Grace vs. Law. Paul combats heresy of Judaizers by defending, explaining and applying the true Gospel of Grace (Justification by Faith, not law).

Misc. This letter was addressed to the churches of an area rather than an individual church.

Galatia is a region in the central part of what is now Turkey. The northern area was the center of a particular ethnic population. The southern area was included in a political region set up by the Romans.
